

The head of architecture of a company needs to manage the creation of projects within the company. Your company was asked to create a database to store project data. In this request, your company must deliver a report with the following elements: A list of requirements List of stakeholders Conceptual Model Logical Model Physical Model SQL Code Creation of the template on livesql.oracle.com Search and define: Stakeholders: Project: Activity: Objective: Schedule: